

Tribute to Local Legends

Fifteen contributors to the state's rich rock 'n' roll history will be enshrined next month in the new hall of fame

The Continettes, whose name was part of Rago's effort to brand them with the Continentals, was a girl group made up of Valerie Robinson, Ventie Jean Williams, Shirley Lewis Larke, Debbi Badson, Jackie Hazzard and keyboardist Linda Powell (Jackson).

Sharing supporter billing with Stevenson is Don Bunnell, owner of the old Buggy Tavern on Marsh Road in Brandywine Hundred, another popular venue for rock performances. A third supporter being inducted is Charlie Gibb, known for his photographs of Delaware's leading rock musicians.

Congratulations to our own Linda Jackson and Charlie Gibb!
